You can create newsletter articles that will automatically be emailed to a list of subscribers. You can set the list of subscribers yourself, or allow site visitors to add their own email addresses.

Emails will be sent out with file attachments, so if you do attach files, remember that they should be small, preferably no more than 200kb. Your subscribers may not appreciate large files attachments arriving by email. It may be preferable to link back to your site where the files can be downloaded.
